

Welcome to the world of OO.STR.TA!

We're glad your here. Thanks to the inspirational materials bequeathed to us by one J.R.R Tolkein I am creating "One Operating System to Rule Them All". Well, that's the goal. Despite the almost certain probability that I will fail to meet that goal I will minize the time consumption and make the introduction to OO.STR.TA shorter than a machiatto doppio, and sweeter than butterfinger blizzard.

Starting the program

Running The Program

With your Qt Creator open your Qt directory and navigate you your stored location of the project.

Select Build > Run or (ctrl + R)

You will see a brief splash screen of epic proportions. Due to claims of blindness from the awesome radiance it emits we have trimmed its view time to 2000 milliseconds.

...Wait for it

You're the Hero

If you see this image, you have reached the Holy Grail. REJOICE! You now have access to the fountain of youth. Your future is bright when aligned with Leo. The stars favor you.
